I. INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiffs bring this antitrust class action on behalf of individuals and entities that indirectly purchased Cathode Ray Tube Products ("CRT Products") (as further defined below), in the United States from Defendants, their predecessors, any subsidiaries or affiliates thereof, or any of their named and unnamed co-conspirators, during the period beginning at least as early as March 1, 1995 until at least November 25, 2007 (the "Class Period"). Plaintiffs allege that during the Class Period the Defendants conspired to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices of CRT Products sold in the United States. Because of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and other Class Members paid artificially inflated prices for CRT Products and have suffered antitrust injury to their business or property.

2. As further detailed below, beginning in at least 1995, Defendants Samsung, Philips, Daewoo, LG and Chunghwa met or talked with at least one other Defendant in order to discuss and agree upon CRT Product prices and the amount of CRT Products each would produce. Over time, these Defendants reached out to the other Defendant and co-conspirator CRT Product manufacturers, including Toshiba, Panasonic, Hitachi, BMCC, IRICO, Thomson, Mitsubishi, Thai CRT and Samtel, who then also met or talked with their competitors for the purpose of fixing the prices of CRT Products. By 1997, a formal system of multilateral and

1 bilateral meetings was in place, involving the highest levels of the Defendant corporations, all
2 with the sole purpose of fixing the prices of CRT Products at supracompetitive levels.

3 3. Throughout the Class Period, Defendants' conspiracy was effective in 4 moderating the normal downward pressure on prices for CRT Products caused by periods of 5 oversupply and competition from new technologies, such as TFT-LCD and Plasma.
6 Defendants' conspiracy resulted in unusually stable pricing and even rising prices in a very 7 mature, declining market. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and Class
8 members paid higher prices for CRT Products than they would have paid in a competitive 9 market.

10 4. This global conspiracy is being investigated by the Antitrust Division of the 11 United States Department of Justice ("DOJ"), and by several other international competition
12 authorities. On February 10, 2009, a federal grand jury in San Francisco issued a two-count
13 indictment against C.Y. Lin, the former Chairman and CEO of Defendant Chunghwa Picture
14 Tubes, Ltd., for his participation in a global conspiracy to fix the prices of CRTs used in 15 computer monitors and televisions. This is the first indictment to be issued in the DOJ's 16 ongoing investigation into the CRT industry.

17 II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

18 5. This action is instituted under Section 16 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 26, to 19 obtain injunctive relief for violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, to recover
20 damages under state antitrust, unfair competition, and consumer protection laws, and to recover
21 costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, for the injuries that Plaintiffs and all others
22 similarly situated sustained as a result of the Defendants' violations of those laws.

23 6. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over the federal claim under 28 U.S.C.
24 §§ 1331 and 1337. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over the state law claims under 28
25 U.S.C. § 1367 because those claims are so related to the federal claim that they form part of the 26 same case or controversy.

27 7. This court also has subject matter jurisdiction over the state law claims pursuant 28 to the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, which amended 28 U.S.C. § 1332 to add a new

1 subsection (d) conferring federal jurisdiction over class actions where, as here, “any member of 2 a class of Plaintiffs is a citizen of a state different from any Defendant and the aggregated
 3 amount in controversy exceeds $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs.” This Court also has 4 jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) because “one or more members of the class is a citizen of 5 a state within the United States and one or more of the Defendants is a citizen or subject of a 6 foreign state.”

7 8. Venue is proper in this Judicial District pursuant to Section 12 of the Clayton Act
 8 (15 U.S.C. § 22) and 28 U.S.C. § 1391 (b), (c) and (d), because during the Class Period one or 9 more of the Defendants resided, transacted business, was found, or had agents in, this district,
 10 and because a substantial part of the events giving rise to Plaintiffs’ claims occurred in this
 11 district, and a substantial portion of the affected portion of the interstate trade and commerce
 12 described below has been carried out in this district.

13 9. Defendants conduct business throughout the United States, including this 14 jurisdiction, and they have purposefully availed themselves of the laws of the United States,
 15 including specifically the laws of the state of California and the individual states listed herein.
 16 Defendants’ products are sold in the flow of interstate commerce, and Defendants’ activities had 17 a direct, substantial and reasonably foreseeable effect on such commerce.

18 10. Defendants’ conspiracy to fix the prices of CRT Products substantially affected
 19 commerce throughout the United States and in each of the states identified herein, because 20 Defendants directly or through their agents, engaged in activities affecting each such state.
 21 Defendants have purposefully availed themselves of the laws of each of the states identified 22 herein in connection with their activities relating to the production, marketing, and sale and/or 23 distribution of CRT Products. Defendants produced, promoted, sold, marketed, and/or 24 distributed CRT Products, thereby purposefully profiting from access to indirect purchaser
 25 consumers in each such state. As a result of the activities described herein, Defendants:

26 a. Caused damage to the residents of the states identified herein;
 27
 28

- b. Caused damage in each of the states identified herein by acts or omissions committed outside each such state and by regularly doing or soliciting business in each such state;
- c. Engaged in a persistent course of conduct within each state and/or derived substantial revenue from the marketing and sale of CRT Products in each such state; and
- d. Committed acts or omissions that they knew or should have known would cause damage (and, in fact, did cause damage) in each such state while regularly doing or soliciting business in each such state, engaging in other persistent courses of conduct in each such state, and/or deriving substantial revenue from the marketing and sale of CRT Products in each such state.

11. The conspiracy described herein adversely affected every person nationwide, and more particularly, consumers in each of the states identified in this Complaint, who indirectly purchased Defendants' and their co-conspirators' CRT Products. Defendants' conspiracy has resulted in an adverse monetary effect on indirect purchasers in each state identified herein.

12. Prices of CRT Products in each state identified in this Complaint were raised to supracompetitive levels by the Defendants and their co-conspirators. Defendants knew that commerce in CRT Products in each of the states identified herein would be adversely affecting by implementing their conspiracy.

III. DEFINITIONS

13. As used herein, the term "CRT" or "CRTs" stands for "cathode ray tube(s)." A CRT is a display technology used in televisions, computer monitors and other specialized applications. The CRT is a vacuum tube that is coated on its inside face with light sensitive phosphors. An electron gun at the back of the vacuum tube emits electron beams. When the electron beams strike the phosphors, the phosphors produce either red, green, or blue light. A system of magnetic fields inside the CRT, as well as varying voltages, directs the beams to

1 produce the desired colors. This process is rapidly repeated several times per second to produce
2 the desired images.

3 14. There are two types of CRTs: color display tubes (“CDTs”) which are used in 4 computer monitors and other specialized applications; and color picture tubes (“CPTs”) which 5 are used in televisions. CDTs and CPTs are collectively referred to herein as “cathode ray
6 tubes” or “CRTs.”

7 15. As used herein “CRT Products” includes (a) CRTs; and (b) products containing 8 CRTs, such as television sets and computer monitors.

8 115. Each of the Defendants named herein acted as the agent or joint venturer of or for 9 the other Defendants with respect to the acts, violations and common course of conduct alleged 10 herein. Each Defendant which is a subsidiary of a foreign parent acts as the sole United States 11 agent for CRT Products made by its parent company.

12 VII. INTERSTATE TRADE AND COMMERCE

13 116. Throughout the Class Period, each Defendant, or one or more of its subsidiaries, 14 sold CRT Products in the United States in a continuous and uninterrupted flow of interstate and 15 international commerce, including through and into this judicial district.

16 117. During the Class Period, Defendants collectively controlled the vast majority of 17 the market for CRT Products, both globally and in the United States.

18 118. Defendants' unlawful activities, as described herein, took place within the flow
 19 of interstate commerce to purchasers of CRT Products located in states other than the states in 20 which Defendants are located, as well as throughout the world, and had a direct, substantial and 21 reasonably foreseeable effect upon interstate and international commerce, including the United 22 States markets for CRT Products.

23 VIII. FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

24 A. CRT Technology

25 119. CRT technology was first developed more than a century ago. The first 26 commercially practical CRT television was made in 1931. It was not until the RCA Corporation 27 introduced the product at the 1939 World's Fair, however, that it became widely available to 28 consumers. Since then, CRTs have become the heart of most display products, including

1 televisions, computer monitors, oscilloscopes, air traffic control monitors, and ATMs. Even 2 large public displays, including many scoreboards at sports arenas, are comprised of thousands 3 of single color CRTs.

4 120. As noted above, the CRT is a vacuum tube that is coated on its inside face with 5 light sensitive phosphors. An electron gun at the back of the vacuum tube emits electron beams.
6 When the electron beams strike the phosphors, the phosphors produce either red, green, or blue
7 light. A system of magnetic fields inside the CRT, as well as varying voltages, directs the 8 beams to produce the desired colors. This process is rapidly repeated several times per second 9 to produce the desired images.

10 121. The quality of a CRT display is dictated by the quality of the CRT itself. No
11 external control or feature can make up for a poor quality tube. In this regard, the CRT defines 12 the whole product such that the product is often simply referred to as “the CRT.”

13 122. Until the last few years, CRTs were the dominant technology used in displays,
14 including television and computer monitors. During the Class Period, this translated into the 15 sale of millions of CRT Products, generating billions of dollars in annual profits.

16 B. Structural Characteristics Of The CRT Market

17 123. The structural characteristics of the CRT Product market are conducive to the 18 type of collusive activity alleged in this Complaint. These characteristics include market 19 concentration, ease of information sharing, the consolidation of manufacturers, multiple 20 interrelated business relationships, significant barriers to entry, maturity of the CRT Product 21 market, and homogeneity of products.

22 a. Market Concentration

23 124. During the Class Period, the CRT industry was dominated by relatively few
24 companies. In 2004, defendants Samsung SDI, LG.Philips Displays (n/k/a LP Displays), MT
25 Picture Display and Chunghwa together held a collective 78% share of the global CRT market.
26 The high concentration of market share facilitates coordination since there are fewer cartel 27 members among which to coordinate pricing or allocate markets, and it is easier to monitor the 28 pricing and production of other cartel members.

1 b. Information Sharing

2 125. Because of common membership in trade associations for the CRT Product
3 market and related markets (for e.g., TFT-LCD), interrelated business arrangements such as 4 joint ventures, allegiances between companies in certain countries, and relationships between 5 the executives of certain companies, there were many opportunities for Defendants to discuss 6 and exchange competitive information. The ease of communication was facilitated by the use of 7 meetings, telephone calls, e-mails, and instant messages. Defendants took advantage of these 8 opportunities to discuss and agree upon their pricing for CRT Products.

9 126. Defendants Chunghwa, Hitachi and Samsung are all members of the Society for 10 Information Display. Defendants Samsung and LG Electronics, Inc. are two of the co-founders
11 of the Korea Display Industry Association. Similarly, Daewoo, LG Electronics, LP Displays, 12 and Samsung are members of the Electronic Display Industrial Research Association. Upon 13 information and belief, Defendants used these trade associations as vehicles for discussing and 14 agreeing upon their pricing for CRT Products. At the meetings of these trade associations, 15 Defendants exchanged proprietary and competitively sensitive information which they used to 16 implement and monitor the conspiracy.

17 c. Consolidation

18 127. The CRT Product industry also had significant consolidation during the Class
19 Period, including but not limited to: (a) the creation of LG.Philips Displays (n/k/a LP Displays)
20 in 2001 as a joint venture between Royal Philips and LG Electronics, Inc.; and (b) the 2002
21 merger of Toshiba and Matsushita/Panasonic's CRT business into MTPD.

22 128. Defendants also consolidated their manufacturing facilities in lower cost venues
23 such as China and reduced manufacturing capacity to prop up prices.

24 d. Multiple Interrelated Business Relationships

25 129. The CRT Product industry has a close-knit nature whereby multiple business
26 relationships between supposed competitors blur the lines of competition and provided ample 27 opportunity to collude. These business relationships also created a unity of interest among competitors so that the conspiracy was easier to implement and enforce than if such interrelationships did not exist.
28

130. Examples of the high degree of cooperation among Defendants in both the CRT Product market and other closely related markets include the following:

a. The formation of the CRT joint venture LG.Philips Displays in 2001 by Defendants LG Electronics, Inc. and Royal Philips.

b. Defendants LG Electronics, Inc. and Royal Philips also formed LG.Philips LCD Co., Ltd., n/k/a LG Display Co., Ltd. in 1999 as a joint venture for the purpose of manufacturing TFT-LCD panels.

c. The formation of the CRT joint venture MTPD in 2003 by Defendants Toshiba and Panasonic.

d. Defendants Toshiba and Panasonic also formed Toshiba-Matsushita Display Technology Co., Ltd. as a joint venture for the purpose of manufacturing TFT-LCD panels.

e. In December 1995, Defendants Daewoo and Toshiba partnered with two other non-Defendant entities to form TEDI which manufactured CRTs in Indonesia.

f. Defendants Daewoo and Toshiba also signed a cooperative agreement relating to LCDs in 1995. Pursuant to the agreement, Daewoo produced STN LCDs, and Toshiba, which had substituted its STN LCD production with TFT LCD production, marketed Daewoo's STN LCDs globally through its network.

g. Also in 1995, Defendant Chunghwa entered into a technology transfer agreement with Defendant Toshiba for large CPTs.

h. Defendant Chunghwa has a joint venture with Defendant Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd. for the production of liquid crystal display panels. Chunghwa now licenses the technology from Defendant Royal Philips, a recent development that helped resolve a patent infringement suit filed in 2002.

i. Defendants LG Electronics, Inc. and Hitachi Ltd. entered into a joint venture in 2000 for the manufacture, sale and distribution of optical storage products such as DVD drives.

j. Defendant Samtel participates in a joint venture, Samcor Glass Limited, with Defendant Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd. and non-Defendant Corning Inc., USA for the production and supply of picture tube glass.

k. Defendant Samtel claims to have supplied CRTs to Defendants LG Electronics, Inc., Samsung, Royal Philips, and Panasonic.

e. High Costs Of Entry Into The Industry

131. There are substantial barriers to entry in the CRT Products industry. It would require substantial time, resources and industry knowledge to even potentially overcome the barriers to entry. It is also extremely unlikely that a new producer would enter the market in light of the declining demand for CRT Products.

f. The Maturity Of The CRT Product Market

132. Newer industries are typically characterized by rapid growth, innovation and high profits. The CRT Product market is a mature one, and like many mature industries, is characterized by slim profit margins, creating a motivation to collude.

133. Demand for CRT Products was declining throughout the Class Period. Static or declining demand is another factor which makes the formation of a collusive arrangement more likely because it provides a greater incentive to firms to avoid price competition.

134. In addition, conventional CRT televisions and computer monitors were being rapidly replaced by TFT-LCD and Plasma displays. This was one of the factors which led Defendants to engage in this alleged price fixing scheme in order to slow down declining CRT Product prices. Between 2000 and 2006, revenues from the sale of CRT televisions in the United States declined by 50.7 percent and are predicted to decline by an additional 84.5 percent between 2006 and 2010.

135. Although demand was declining as a result of the popularity of flat-panel LCD/plasma televisions and LCD monitors, CRT televisions and monitors were still the

1 dominant display technology during the Class Period, making Defendants' collusion and the 2 international price fixing conspiracy worthwhile. Due to the high costs of LCD panels and 3 plasma displays during the Class Period, a substantial market for CRT Products existed as a 4 cheaper alternative to these new technologies.

5 136. In 1999, CRT monitors accounted for 94.5 percent of the retail market for 6 computer monitors in North America. By 2002, that figure had dropped to 73 percent; still a 7 substantial share of the market.

8 137. As for CRT televisions, they accounted for 73 percent of the North American
 9 television market in 2004, and by the end of 2006, still held a 46 percent market share. CRT 10 televisions continue to dominate the global television market, accounting for 75 percent of 11 worldwide TV units in 2006.

12 g. Homogeneity Of CRT Products

13 138. CRT Products are commodity-like products which are manufactured in 14 standardized sizes. One Defendant's CRT Products for a particular application, such as a 15 particular size television set or computer monitor, is substitutable for another's. Defendants sell 16 and Plaintiffs (and Class members) purchase CRT Products primarily on the basis of price.

17 139. It is easier to form and sustain a cartel when the product in question is 18 commodity-like because it is easier to agree on prices to charge and to monitor those prices once 19 an agreement is formed.

20 C. Pre-Conspiracy Market

21 140. The genesis of the CRT conspiracy was in the late 1980s as the CRT Products
 22 business became more international and the Defendants began serving customers that were also 23 being served by other international companies. During this period, the employees of Defendants 24 would encounter employees from their competitors when visiting their customers. A culture of 25 cooperation developed over the years and these Defendant employees would exchange market
 26 information on production, capacity, and customers.

27 141. In the early 1990s, representatives from Samsung, Daewoo, Chunghwa and Orion
 28 visited each other's factories in S.E. Asia. During this period, these producers began to include discussions about price in their meetings. The pricing discussions were usually limited, however, to exchanges of the range of prices that each competitor had quoted to specific customers.

D. Defendants' And Co-Conspirators' Illegal Agreements

142. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and thereon allege, that in order to control and maintain profitability during declining demand for CRT Products, Defendants and their co-conspirators have engaged in a contract, combination, trust or conspiracy, the effect of which has been to raise, fix, maintain and/or stabilize the prices at which they sold CRT Products to artificially inflated levels from at least March 1, 1995 through at least November 25, 2007.

143. The CRT conspiracy was effectuated through a combination of group and bilateral meetings. In the formative years of the conspiracy (1995-1996), bilateral discussions were the primary method of communication and took place on an informal, ad hoc basis. During this period, representatives from Defendants LG, Samsung and Daewoo visited the other Defendant and co-conspirator manufacturers including Philips, Chunghwa, Thai CRT, Hitachi, Toshiba, Mitsubishi and Panasonic to discuss increasing prices for CRT Products in general and to specific customers. These meetings took place in Taiwan, South Korea, Thailand, Japan, Malaysia, Indonesia, and Singapore.

144. Defendants Samsung, Chunghwa, LG, Mitsubishi and Daewoo also attended several ad hoc group meetings during this period. The participants at these group meetings also discussed increasing prices for CRT Products.

145. As more manufacturers formally entered the conspiracy, group meetings became more prevalent. Beginning in 1997, the Defendants began to meet in a more organized, systematic fashion, and a formal system of multilateral and bilateral meetings was put in place. Defendants' representatives attended hundreds of these meetings during the Class Period.

146. The overall CRT conspiracy raised and stabilized worldwide prices (including United States prices) that Defendants charged for CRT Products.

a. "Glass Meetings"

1 147. The group meetings among the participants in the CRT price-fixing conspiracy
2 were referred to by the participants as “Glass Meetings” or “GSM.” Glass Meetings were 3 attended by employees at three general levels of the Defendants’ corporations.

4 148. The first level of these meetings were attended by high level company executives
5 including CEOs, Presidents, and Vice Presidents, and were known as “Top Meetings.” Top
6 Meetings occurred less frequently, typically quarterly, and were focused on longer term
7 agreements and forcing compliance with price fixing agreements. Because attendees at Top
8 Meetings had authority as well as more reliable information, these meetings resulted in 9 agreements. Attendees at Top Meetings were also able to resolve disputes because they were 10 decision makers who could make agreements.

11 149. The second level of meetings were attended by the Defendants’ high level sales
12 managers and were known as “Management Meetings.” These meetings occurred more
13 frequently, typically monthly, and handled implementation of the agreements made at Top 14 Meetings.

15 150. Finally, the third level of meetings were known as “Working Level Meetings”
16 and were attended by lower level sales and marketing employees. These meetings generally
17 occurred on a weekly or monthly basis and were mostly limited to the exchange of information
18 and discussing pricing since the lower level employees did not have the authority to enter into 19 agreements. These lower level employees would then transmit the competitive information up
20 the corporate reporting chain to those individuals with pricing authority. The Working Level 21 Meetings also tended to be more regional and often took place near Defendants’ factories. In 22 other words, the Taiwanese manufacturers’ employees met in Taiwan, the Korean 23 manufacturers’ employees met in Korea, the Chinese in China, and so on.

24 a. The Chinese Glass Meetings began in 1998 and generally occurred on a 25 monthly basis following a top or management level meeting. The China meetings had the 26 principal purpose of reporting what had been decided at the most recent Glass Meeting to the 27 Chinese manufacturers. Participants at the Chinese meetings included the manufacturers located
28 in China, such as IRICO and BMCC, as well as the China-based branches of the other

1 Defendants, including but not limited to Hitachi Shenzhen, Samsung SDI Shenzhen, Samsung
2 SDI Tianjin, and Chunghwa.

3 b. Glass Meetings also occurred occasionally in various European countries.
4 Attendees at these meetings included those Defendants which had subsidiaries and/or 5 manufacturing facilities located in Europe, including Philips, LG, LP Displays, Chunghwa,
6 Samsung, Daewoo (usually DOSA attended these meetings on behalf of Daewoo), IRICO,
7 Thomson and, from 2005, Videocon.

8 151. Representatives of the Defendants also attended what were known amongst 9 members of the conspiracy as “Green Meetings.” These were meetings held on golf courses.
10 The Green Meetings were generally attended by top and management level employees of the 11 Defendants.

12 152. During the Class Period, Glass Meetings took place in Taiwan, South Korea, 13 Europe, China, Singapore, Japan, Indonesia, Thailand, Malaysia and the United States.

14 153. Participants would often exchange competitively sensitive information prior to a 15 Glass Meeting. This included information on inventories, production, sales and exports. For 16 some such meetings, where information could not be gathered in advance of the meeting, it was 17 brought to the meeting and shared.

18 154. The Glass Meetings at all levels followed a fairly typical agenda. First, the 19 participants exchanged competitive information such as proposed future CRT pricing, sales 20 volume, inventory levels, production capacity, exports, customer orders, price trends, and 21 forecasts of sales volumes for coming months. The participants also updated the information
22 they had provided in the previous meeting. Each meeting had a rotating, designated “Chairman”
23 who would write the information on a white board. The meeting participants then used this 24 information to discuss and agree upon what price each would charge for CRTs to be sold in the 25 following month or quarter. They discussed and agreed upon target prices, price increases, so-
26 called “bottom” prices, and price ranges for CRTs. They also discussed and agreed upon prices
27 of CRTs that were sold to specific customers, and agreed upon target prices to be used in 28

1 negotiations with large customers. Having analyzed the supply and demand, the participants
2 would also discuss and agree upon production cutbacks.

3 155. During periods of oversupply, the focus of the meeting participants turned to 4 making controlled and coordinated price reductions. This was referred to as setting a “bottom 5 price.”

6 156. Defendants’ conspiracy included agreements on the prices at which certain
7 Defendants would sell CRTs to their own corporate subsidiaries and affiliates that manufactured
8 end products, such as televisions and computer monitors. Defendants realized the importance of 9 keeping the internal pricing to their affiliated OEMs at a high enough level to support the CRT
10 pricing in the market to other OEMs. In this way, Defendants ensured that all direct purchaser
11 OEMs paid supracompetitive prices for CRTs.

12 157. Each of the participants in these meetings knew, and in fact discussed, the 13 significant impact that the price of CRTs had on the cost of the finished products into which 14 they were placed. Like CRTs themselves, the market for CRT Products was a mature one, and 15 there were slim profit margins. The Defendants therefore concluded that in order to make their 16 CRT price increases stick, they needed to make the increase high enough that their direct 17 customers (CRT TV and monitor makers) would be able to justify a corresponding price
18 increase to their customers. In this way, Defendants ensured that price increases for CRTs were 19 passed on to indirect purchasers of CRT Products.

20 158. The agreements reached at the Glass Meetings included:

- 21 a. agreements on CRT Product prices, including establishing target prices,
- 22 “bottom” prices, price ranges, and price guidelines;
- 23 b. placing agreed-upon price differentials on various attributes of CRT
- 24 Products, such as quality or certain technical specifications;
- 25 c. agreements on pricing for intra-company CRT Product sales to vertically
- 26 integrated customers;
- 27 d. agreements as to what to tell customers about the reason for a price
- 28 increase;

- e. agreements to coordinate with competitors that did not attend the group meetings and agreements with them to abide by the agreed-upon pricing;
- f. agreements to coordinate pricing with CRT manufacturers in other geographic markets such as Brazil, Europe and India;
- g. agreements to exchange pertinent information regarding shipments, capacity, production, prices and customers demands;
- h. agreements to coordinate uniform public statements regarding available capacity and supply;
- i. agreements to allocate both overall market shares and share of a particular customer's purchases;
- j. agreements to allocate customers;
- k. agreements regarding capacity, including agreements to restrict output and to audit compliance with such agreements; and
- l. agreements to keep their meetings secret.

159. Efforts were made to monitor each Defendant's adherence to these agreements in a number of ways, including seeking confirmation of pricing both from customers and from employees of the Defendants themselves. When cheating did occur, it was addressed in at least four ways: 1) monitoring; 2) attendees at the meetings challenging other attendees if they did not live up to an agreement; 3) threats to undermine a competitor at one of its principal customers; and 4) a recognition in a mutual interest in living up to the target price and living up to the agreements that had been made.

160. As market conditions worsened in 2005-2007, and the rate of replacement of CRT Products by TFT-LCDs increased, the group Glass Meetings became less frequent and bilateral meetings again became more prevalent. In addition, in December 2006 the DOJ issued subpoenas to manufacturers of TFT-LCDs and so the CRT co-conspirators began to have concerns about antitrust issues.

b. Bilateral Discussions

1 161. Throughout the Class Period, the Glass Meetings were supplemented by bilateral
2 discussions between various Defendants. The bilateral discussions were more informal than the 3 group meetings and occurred on a frequent, ad hoc basis, often between the group meetings.
4 These discussions, usually between sales and marketing employees, took the form of in-person
5 meetings, telephone contacts and emails.

6 162. During the Class Period, in-person bilateral meetings took place in Malaysia,
7 Indonesia, Taiwan, China, United Kingdom, Singapore, South Korea, Japan, Thailand, Brazil,
8 Mexico and the United States.

9 163. The purpose of the bilateral discussions was to exchange information about past 10 and future pricing, confirm production levels, share sales order information, confirm pricing
11 rumors, and coordinate pricing with manufacturers in other geographic locations, including 12 Brazil, Mexico, Europe and the United States.

13 164. In order to ensure the efficacy of their global conspiracy, the Defendants also 14 used bilateral meetings to coordinate pricing with CRT Product manufacturers in Brazil, Mexico 15 and the United States, such as Philips, Samsung SDI, Thomson, Mitsubishi and later, LPD (from 16 2001) and Videocon (from 2005). These CRT manufacturers were particularly important
17 because they served the North American market for CRT Products. As further alleged herein, 18 North America was the largest market for CRT televisions and computer monitors during the 19 Class Period. Because these manufacturers were all wholly-owned and controlled subsidiaries
20 of Defendants or co-conspirators Philips, Samsung SDI, Thomson, Mitsubishi and LPD, they 21 adhered to the unlawful price-fixing agreements. In this way, the Defendants ensured that prices
22 of all CRT Products sold in the United States were fixed, raised, maintained and/or stabilized at 23 supracompetitive levels.

24 165. Defendants also used bilateral discussions with each other during price 25 negotiations with customers to avoid being persuaded by customers to cut prices. The 26 information gained in these communications was then shared with supervisors and taken into 27 account in determining the price to be offered.
28

166. Bilateral discussions were also used to coordinate prices with CRT Product manufacturers that did not ordinarily attend the group meetings, such as Defendants and co-conspirators Hitachi, Toshiba, Panasonic, Thai CRT, Samtel, Thomson, Mitsubishi and later Videocon. It was often the case that in the few days following a Top or Management Meeting, the attendees at these group meetings would meet bilaterally with the other Defendant and co-conspirator manufacturers for the purpose of communicating whatever CRT Product pricing and/or output agreements had been reached during the meeting. For example, Samsung had a relationship with Hitachi and was responsible for communicating CRT Product pricing agreements to Hitachi. LG had a relationship with Toshiba and was responsible for communicating CRT Product pricing agreements to Toshiba. And Thai CRT had a relationship with Samtel and was responsible for communicating CRT Product pricing agreements to Samtel. Hitachi, Toshiba and Samtel implemented the agreed-upon pricing as conveyed by Samsung, LG, and Thai CRT. Sometimes Hitachi and Toshiba also attended the Glass Meetings. Similarly, Philips had regular bilateral communications with Thomson in Europe and the United States, and Samsung SDI had regular communications with Mitsubishi. In this way, Hitachi, Toshiba, Samtel, Thomson and Mitsubishi participated in the conspiracy to fix prices of CRT Products.

c. Defendants' And Co-Conspirators' Participation In Group And Bilateral Discussions

167. Between at least 1995 and 2007, Defendant Samsung, through SEC, Samsung SDI, Samsung SDI Malaysia, Samsung SDI Shenzhen, and Samsung SDI Tianjin, participated in at least 200 Glass Meetings at all levels. A substantial number of these meetings were attended by the highest ranking executives from Samsung. Samsung also engaged in bilateral discussions with each of the other Defendants on a regular basis. Through these discussions, Samsung agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products.

168. Defendants SEAI, Samsung SDI America, Samsung SDI Brazil, and Samsung SDI Mexico were represented at those meetings and were a party to the agreements entered at them. To the extent SEC and SEAI sold and/or distributed CRT Products, they played a

1 significant role in the conspiracy because Defendants wished to ensure that the prices for CRT
2 Products paid by direct purchasers would not undercut the CRT pricing agreements reached at 3 the Glass Meetings. Thus, SEAI, Samsung SDI America, Samsung SDI Brazil, and Samsung
4 SDI Mexico were active, knowing participants in the alleged conspiracy.

5 169. Between at least 1995 and 2001, Defendant LG, through LG Electronics, Inc. and 6 LGETT, participated at least 100 Glass Meetings at all levels. After 2001, LG participated in 7 the CRT Product conspiracy through its joint venture with Philips, LG.Philips Displays (n/k/a
8 LP Displays). A substantial number of these meetings were attended by the highest ranking
9 executives from LG. LG also engaged in bilateral discussions with each of the other Defendants
10 on a regular basis. Through these discussions, LG agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT
11 Products. LG never effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

12 170. Defendant LGEUSA was represented at those meetings and was a party to the 13 agreements entered at them. To the extent LGEUSA sold and/or distributed CRT Products, they 14 played a significant role in the conspiracy because Defendants wished to ensure that the prices
15 for CRT Products paid by direct purchasers would not undercut the pricing agreements reached 16 at the Glass Meetings. Thus, LGEUSA was an active, knowing participant in the alleged 17 conspiracy.

18 171. Between at least 1996 and 2001, Defendant Philips, through Royal Philips and 19 Philips Taiwan, participated at least 100 Glass Meetings at all levels. After 2001, Philips
20 participated in the CRT Product conspiracy through its joint venture with LG, LG.Philips
21 Displays (n/k/a LP Displays). A substantial number of these meetings were attended by high 22 level executives from Philips. Philips also engaged in numerous bilateral discussions with other
23 Defendants. Through these discussions, Philips agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT
24 Products. Philips never effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

25 172. Defendants PENAC and Philips Brazil were represented at those meetings and 26 were a party to the agreements entered at them. To the extent PENAC and Philips Brazil sold 27 and/or distributed CRT Products to direct purchasers, they played a significant role in the 28 conspiracy because Defendants wished to ensure that the prices for CRT Products paid by direct

1 purchasers would not undercut the pricing agreements reached at the Glass Meetings. Thus,
2 PENAC and Philips Brazil were active, knowing participants in the alleged conspiracy.

3 173. Between at least 2001 and 2006, Defendant LP Displays (f/k/a LG.Philips
4 Displays) participated at least 100 Glass Meetings at all levels. A substantial number of these 5 meetings were attended by the highest ranking executives from LP Displays. Certain of these 6 high level executives from LP Displays had previously attended meetings on behalf of 7 defendants LG and Philips. LP Displays also engaged in bilateral discussions with other 8 Defendants. Through these discussions, LP Displays agreed on prices and supply levels for 9 CRT Products.

10 174. Between at least 1995 and 2006, Defendant Chunghwa, through CPT, Chunghwa
11 Malaysia, and representatives from their factories in Fuzhuo (China) and Scotland, participated 12 in at least 100 Glass Meetings at all levels. A substantial number of these meetings were 13 attended by the highest ranking executives from Chunghwa, including the former Chairman and 14 CEO of CPT, C.Y. Lin. Chunghwa also engaged in bilateral discussions with each of the other 15 Defendants on a regular basis. Through these discussions, Chunghwa agreed on prices and 16 supply levels for CRT Products.

17 175. Defendant Tatung America was represented at those meetings and was a party to 18 the agreements entered at them. To the extent Tatung America sold and/or distributed CRT
19 Products to direct purchasers, it played a significant role in the conspiracy because Defendants
20 wished to ensure that the prices for CRT Products paid by direct purchasers would not undercut
21 the pricing agreements reached at the Glass Meetings. Thus, Tatung America was an active, 22 knowing participant in the alleged conspiracy.

23 176. Between at least 1995 and 2004, Daewoo, through Daewoo Electronics, Orion
24 and DOSA, participated in at least 100 Glass Meetings at all levels. A substantial number of 25 these meetings were attended by the highest ranking executives from Daewoo. Daewoo also 26 engaged in bilateral discussions with other Defendants on a regular basis. Through these 27 discussions, Daewoo agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products. Bilateral discussions
28

1 with Daewoo continued until Orion, its wholly-owned CRT subsidiary, filed for bankruptcy in 2 2004. Daewoo never effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

3 177. Between at least 1995 and 2003, Defendant Toshiba, through Toshiba
4 Corporation, TDDT and TEDI, participated in several Glass Meetings. After 2003, Toshiba
5 participated in the CRT conspiracy through its joint venture with Panasonic, MTPD. These 6 meetings were attended by high level sales managers from Toshiba and MTPD. Toshiba also 7 engaged in multiple bilateral discussions with other Defendants, particularly with LG. Through 8 these discussions, Toshiba agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products. Toshiba never 9 effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

10 178. Defendants Toshiba America, Inc., TACP, TAIP and TAEC were represented at 11 those meetings and were a party to the agreements entered at them. To the extent Toshiba
12 America, Inc., TACP, TAIP and TAEC sold and/or distributed CRT Products to direct 13 purchasers, they played a significant role in the conspiracy because Defendants wished to ensure 14 that the prices for CRT Products paid by direct purchasers would not undercut the pricing
15 agreements reached at the Glass Meetings. Thus, Toshiba America, TACP, TAIP, and TAEC
16 were active, knowing participants in the alleged conspiracy.

17 179. Between at least 1996 and 2001, Defendant Hitachi, through Hitachi, Ltd., 18 Hitachi Displays, Hitachi Shenzhen, and Hitachi Asia, participated in several Glass Meetings.
19 These meetings were attended by high level sales managers from Hitachi. Hitachi also engaged 20 in multiple bilateral discussions with other Defendants, particularly with Samsung. Through 21 these discussions, Hitachi agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products. Hitachi never 22 effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

23 180. Defendants Hitachi America and HEDUS were represented at those meetings and 24 were a party to the agreements entered at them. To the extent Hitachi America and HEDUS
25 sold and/or distributed CRT Products to direct purchasers, they played a significant role in the 26 conspiracy because Defendants wished to ensure that the prices for CRT Products paid by direct 27 purchasers would not undercut the pricing agreements reached at the Glass Meetings. Thus,
28 Hitachi America and HEDUS were active, knowing participants in the alleged conspiracy.

1 181. Between at least 1996 and 2003, Defendant Panasonic (known throughout the 2 class period as Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd.), through Panasonic Corporation and 3 Matsushita Malaysia, participated in several Glass Meetings. After 2003, Panasonic participated
4 in the CRT conspiracy through its joint venture with Toshiba, MTPD. These meetings were 5 attended by high level sales managers from Panasonic and MTPD. Panasonic also engaged in 6 multiple bilateral discussions with other Defendants. Through these discussions, Panasonic
7 agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products. Panasonic never effectively withdrew 8 from this conspiracy.

9 182. Panasonic NA was represented at those meetings and was a party to the 10 agreements entered at them. To the extent Panasonic NA sold and/or distributed CRT Products
11 to direct purchasers, it played a significant role in the conspiracy because Defendants wished to 12 ensure that the prices for CRT Products paid by direct purchasers would not undercut the pricing
13 agreements reached at the Glass Meetings. Thus, Panasonic NA was an active, knowing 14 participant in the alleged conspiracy.

15 183. Between at least 2003 and 2006, Defendant MTPD participated in multiple Glass 16 Meetings and in fact led many of these meetings during the latter years of the conspiracy. These 17 meetings were attended by high level sales managers from MTPD. MTPD also engaged in 18 bilateral discussions with other Defendants. Through these discussions, MTPD agreed on prices
19 and supply levels for CRT Products.

20 184. Between at least 1998 and 2007, Defendant BMCC participated in multiple Glass
21 Meetings. These meetings were attended by high level sales managers from BMCC. BMCC
22 also engaged in multiple bilateral discussions with other Defendants, particularly the other
23 Chinese CRT manufacturers. Through these discussions, BMCC agreed on prices and supply
24 levels for CRT Products. None of BMCC's conspiratorial conduct in connection with CRT
25 Products was mandated by the Chinese government. BMCC was acting to further its own 26 independent private interests in participating in the alleged conspiracy.

27 185. Between at least 1998 and 2007, Defendant IRICO, through IGC, IGE, and 28 IDDC, participated in multiple Glass Meetings. These meetings were attended by the highest

1 ranking executives from IRICO. IRICO also engaged in multiple bilateral discussions with 2 other Defendants, particularly with other Chinese manufacturers. Through these discussions,
3 IRICO agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products. None of IRICO's conspiratorial
4 conduct in connection with CRT Products was mandated by the Chinese government. IRICO
5 was acting to further its own independent private interests in participating in the alleged 6 conspiracy.

7 186. Between at least 1997 and 2006, Defendant Thai CRT participated in multiple 8 Glass Meetings. These meetings were attended by the highest ranking executives from Thai
9 CRT. Thai CRT also engaged in multiple bilateral discussions with other Defendants,
10 particularly with Samtel. Through these discussions, Thai CRT agreed on prices and supply
11 levels for CRT Products. Thai CRT never effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

12 187. Between at least 1998 and 2006, Defendant Samtel participated in multiple 13 bilateral discussions with other Defendants, particularly with Thai CRT. These meetings were 14 attended by high level executives from Samtel. Through these discussions, Samtel agreed on 15 prices and supply levels for CRT Products. Samtel never effectively withdrew from this 16 conspiracy.

17 188. Between at least 1996 and 2005, co-conspirator Thomson participated in at least 18 61 meetings with its competitors, including several Glass Meetings and multiple bilateral 19 meetings. These meetings were attended by high level sales managers from Thomson. At these 20 meetings, Thomson discussed such things as CRT prices, production, revenues, volumes,
21 demand, inventories, estimated sales, plant shutdowns, customer allocation, and new product
22 development and agreed on prices and supply levels for CRT Products. Thomson never 23 effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

24 189. Between 2005 and 2007, co-conspirator Videocon participated in several Glass
25 Meetings and multiple bilateral meetings with its competitors. These meetings were attended by 26 high level sales managers from Videocon. At these meetings, Videocon discussed such things
27 as CRT prices, production, revenues, volumes, demand, inventories, estimated sales, plant
28

1 shutdowns, customer allocation, and new product development, and agreed on prices and supply
2 levels for CRT Products. Videocon never effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

3 190. Between at least 1995 and 2005, co-conspirator Mitsubishi participated in 4 multiple bilateral and some multilateral meetings with its competitors. These meetings were 5 attended by high level sales managers from Mitsubishi. At these meetings, Mitsubishi discussed
6 such things as CRT prices, production, revenues, volumes, demand, inventories, estimated sales, 7 plant shutdowns, customer allocation, and new product development, and agreed on prices and 8 supply levels for CRT Products. Mitsubishi never effectively withdrew from this conspiracy.

9 191. When Plaintiffs refer to a corporate family or companies by a single name in 10 their allegations of participation in the conspiracy, Plaintiffs are alleging that one or more
11 employees or agents of entities within the corporate family engaged in conspiratorial meetings
12 on behalf of every company in that family. In fact, the individual participants in the 13 conspiratorial meetings and discussions did not always know the corporate affiliation of their 14 counterparts, nor did they distinguish between the entities within a corporate family. The 15 individual participants entered into agreements on behalf of, and reported these meetings and 16 discussions to, their respective corporate families. As a result, the entire corporate family was 17 represented in meetings and discussions by their agents and were parties to the agreements 18 reached in them.

19 E. The CRT Market During The Conspiracy

20 192. Until the last few years, CRTs were the dominant technology used in displays,
21 including television and computer monitors. During the Class Period, this translated into the 22 sale of millions of CRT Products, generating billions of dollars in annual profits.

23 193. The following data was reported by Stanford Resources, Inc., a market research
24 firm focused on the global electronic display industry:

25 Year	Units Sold (millions)	Revenue (billion US dollars)	Average Selling Price Per Unit
26 1998	90.5	$18.9	$208
27 1999	106.3	$19.2	$181
28 2000	119.0	$28.0	$235

1 194. During the Class Period, North America was the largest market for CRT TVs and 2 computer monitors. According to a report published by Fuji Chimera Research, the 1995
3 worldwide market for CRT monitors was 57.8 million units, 28 million of which (48.5 percent)
4 were consumed in North America. By 2002, North America still consumed around 35 percent
5 of the world's CRT monitor supply. See, The Future of Liquid Crystal and Related Display
6 Materials, Fuji Chimera Research, 1997, p.12.

7 195. Defendants' collusion is evidenced by unusual price movements in the CRT
8 Product market during the Class Period. In the 1990s, industry analysts repeatedly predicted
9 declines in consumer prices for CRT Products that did not fully materialize. For example, in 10 1992, an analyst for Market Intelligent Research Corporation predicted that "[e]conomies of 11 scale, in conjunction with technological improvements and advances in manufacturing 12 techniques, will produce a drop in the price of the average electronic display to about $50 in 13 1997." Information Display 9/92 p.19. Despite such predictions, and the existence of economic 14 conditions warranting a drop in prices, CRT Product prices nonetheless remained stable.

15 196. In 1996, another industry source noted that "the price of the 14" tube is at a 16 sustainable USD50 and has been for some years...."

17 197. In early 1999, despite declining production costs and the rapid entry of flat panel 18 display products, the price of large sized color CRTs actually rose. The price increase was 19 allegedly based on increasing global demand. In fact, this price increase was a result of the 20 collusive conduct as herein alleged.

21 198. After experiencing oversupply of 17" CRTs in the second half of 1999, the 22 average selling price of CRTs rose again in early 2000. A March 13, 2000 article in Infotech
23 Weekly quoted an industry analyst as saying that this price increase was "unlike most other PC-24 related products."

25 199. A BNET Business Network news article from August 1998 reported that "key 26 components (cathode ray tubes) in computer monitors have risen in price. 'Although several 27 manufacturers raised their CRT prices in the beginning of August, additional CRT price
28 increases are expected for the beginning of October....While computer monitor price increases

1 may be a necessary course of action, we [CyberVision, a computer monitor manufacturer] do
2 not foresee a drop in demand if we have to raise our prices relative to CRT price increases.”

3 200. A 2004 article from Techtree.com reports that various computer monitor
4 manufacturers, including LG Electronics, Philips, and Samsung, were raising the price of their 5 monitors in response to increases in CRT prices caused by an alleged shortage of glass shells
6 used to manufacture the tubes. Philips is quoted as saying that, “It is expected that by the end of 7 September this year [2004] there will be 20% hike in the price of our CRT monitors.”

8 201. Defendants also conspired to limit production of CRTs by shutting down 9 production lines for days at a time, and closing or consolidating their manufacturing facilities.

10 202. For example, the Defendants’ CRT factory utilization percentage fell from 90
11 percent in the third quarter of 2000 to 62 percent in the first quarter of 2001. This is the most 12 dramatic example of a drop in factory utilization. There were sudden drops throughout the 13 Class Period but to a lesser degree. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that these sudden,
14 coordinated drops in factory utilization by the Defendants were the result of Defendants’
15 agreements to decrease output in order to stabilize the prices of CRT Products.

16 203. During the Class Period, while demand in the United States for CRT Products
17 continued to decline, Defendants’ conspiracy was effective in moderating the normal downward
18 pressures on prices for CRT Products caused by the entry and popularity of the new generation
19 LCD panels and plasma display products. As Finsen Yu, President of Skyworth Macao
20 Commerical Offshore Co., Ltd., a television maker, was quoted in January of 2007: “[t]he CRT 21 technology is very mature; prices and technology have become stable.”

22 204. During the Class Period, there were not only periods of unnatural and sustained
23 price stability, but there were also increases in prices of CRT Products. These price increases
24 were despite the declining demand due to the approaching obsolescence of CRT Products
25 caused by the emergence of a new, potentially superior and clearly more popular, substitutable
26 technology.

205. These price increases and price stability in the market for CRT Products during the Class Period are inconsistent with a competitive market for a product facing rapidly decreasing demand caused by a new, substitutable technology.

F. International Government Antitrust Investigations

206. Defendants' conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain and stabilize the prices of, and restrict output for, CRT Products sold in the United States during the Class Period, is demonstrated by a multinational investigation commenced by the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice ("DOJ") and others in November 2007.

207. On November 8, 2007, antitrust authorities in Europe, Japan and South Korea raided the offices of manufacturers of CRTs as part of an international investigation of alleged price fixing.

208. On February 10, 2009, the DOJ issued a press release announcing that a federal grand jury in San Francisco had that same day returned a two-count indictment against the former Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Defendant Chunghwa Picture Tubes, Ltd., Cheng Yuan Lin, aka C.Y. Lin, for his participation in global conspiracies to fix the prices of two types of CRTs used in computer monitors and televisions. The press release notes that "[t]his is the first charge as a result of the Antitrust Division's ongoing investigation into the cathode ray tubes industry." The press release further notes that Lin had previously been indicted for his participation in a conspiracy to fix the prices of TFT-LCDs. Mr. Lin's indictment states that the combination and conspiracy to fix the prices of CRTs was carried out, in part, in the Northern District of California.

209. Defendant MT Picture Display Co., Ltd., the CRT unit of Defendant Panasonic, has confirmed that it was raided by Japan's Fair Trade Commission.

210. Kyodo News reported on November 8, 2007, upon information and belief, that MT Picture Display fixed prices for CRTs with manufacturers in three Asian countries, including South Korea's Samsung SDI Co.

211. Kyodo News further reported that:

1 Officials of these three companies are believed to have had at least 10
2 meetings since 2005 in major Asian cities to coordinate target prices when 3 delivering their products to TV manufacturers in Japan and South Korea, the sources said.

4 212. Defendant Samsung SDI Co., Ltd. was raided by South Korea's Fair Trade
5 Commission, which has started an investigation into Samsung's CRT business.

6 213. The Asian Shimbun further reported on November 10, 2007 that "[t]he 7 representatives held meetings in Southeast Asia where the companies operate CRT factories, the 8 sources said. The European Commission, the European Union's executive branch, and the U.S.
9 Justice Department have been investigating four companies' [referring to the four Asian-based 10 manufacturers—MT Picture Display, Samsung SDI Co., Chunghwa Picture Tubes, LP Displays]
11 overseas units and are closely consulting with the Fair Trade Commission by sharing 12 information."

13 214. On November 21, 2007, Defendant Royal Philips publicly disclosed that it too is 14 subject to one or more investigations into anticompetitive conduct in the CRT industry. Royal 15 Philips spokesman Joon Knapen declined to comment on which jurisdictions have started 16 investigations. Royal Philips stated that it intended to assist the regulators.

17 215. In its 2008 Annual Report, Defendant Toshiba reports that "[t]he Group is also 18 being investigated by the [European] Commission and/or the U.S. Department of Justice for 19 potential violations of competition laws with respect to semiconductors, LCD products, cathode
20 ray tubes (CRT) and heavy electrical equipment."

21 216. On May 6, 2008, the Hungarian Competition Authority ("HCA") announced its 22 own investigation into the CRT cartel. The HCA described the cartel as follows:

23 The Hungarian Competition Authority (Gazdasági Versenyhivatal – GVH)
24 initiated a competition supervision proceeding against the following
25 undertakings: Samsung SDI Co., Ltd., Samsung SDI Germany GmbH,
26 Samsung SDI Magyarország Zrt., Thomson TDP sp. Z.o.o., LG Philips
27 Displays Czech Republic s.r.o., LP Displays, Chunghwa Picture Tubes
28 (UK), Ltd., Chunghwa Picture Tubes, Ltd., Daewoo Orion S.A., Daewoo
Electronics Global HQ, Daewoo Electronics European HQ, MT Picture
Display Germany GmbH, Matsushita Global HQ, Matsushita European HQ.

1 Based on the data available, the undertakings mentioned above concerted
2 their practice regarding the manufacturing and distribution of cathode-ray 3 tubes (including coloured picture tubes and coloured screen tubes) on the 4 European market between 1995 and 2007. The anti-competitive behaviour
5 may have concerned the exchange of sensitive market information (about 6 prices, volumes sold, demand and the extent to which capacities were 7 exploited), price-fixing, the allocation of market shares, consumers and 8 volumes to be sold, the limitation of output and coordination concerning 9 the production. The undertakings evolved a structural system and 10 functional mechanism of cooperation.

11 According to the available evidences it is presumable that the coordination
12 of European and Asian undertakings regarding to the European market also 13 included Hungary from 1995 to 2007. The coordination concerning the 14 Hungarian market allegedly formed part of the European coordination.
15 Samsung SDI Magyarország was called into the proceeding since it
16 manufactured and sold cathode-ray tubes in Hungary in the examined
17 period, and it allegedly participated in the coordination between its parent 18 companies.

19 217. As outlined above, Defendants have a history of competitor contacts resulting 20 from joint ventures, numerous cross-licensing agreements, and other alliances in related 21 businesses in the electronics industry.

22 218. Several Defendants also have a history of “cooperation” and anticompetitive 23 conduct. For example, Defendant Samsung was fined $300 million by the U.S. Department of 24 Justice in October 2005 for participating in a conspiracy to fix the prices of Dynamic Random 25 Access Memory (DRAM).

26 219. Defendants Samsung and Toshiba have acknowledged being contacted by the 27 U.S. Department of Justice as part of an ongoing investigation for fixing prices of Static 28 Random Access Memory and NAND Flash Memory.

29 220. In December 2006, government authorities in Japan, Korea, the European Union 30 and the United States revealed a comprehensive investigation into anticompetitive conduct in 31 the closely-related TFT-LCD market.

32 221. On December 12, 2006, news reports indicated that Defendants Samsung and 33 Chunghwa, as well as an LCD joint venture between Defendants Philips and LG Electronics, 34 Inc, LG Display Co., Ltd., were all under investigation for price fixing of TFT-LCDs.

222. On November 12, 2008, the DOJ announced that it had reached agreements with three TFT-LCD manufacturers—LG Display Co., Ltd. (and its U.S. subsidiary, LG Display America, Inc.), Sharp Corporation, and Defendant Chunghwa Picture Tubes, Ltd.—to plead guilty to violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, and pay a total of $585 million in criminal fines for their roles in a conspiracy to fix prices of TFT-LCD panels.

223. On March 10, 2009, the DOJ announced that it had reached an agreement with Defendant Hitachi Displays, Ltd., a subsidiary of Defendant Hitachi, Ltd., to plead guilty to violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, and pay a $31 million fine for its role in a conspiracy to fix the prices of TFT-LCD panels.

224. The indictments of LG Display Co., Ltd., Sharp Corporation, Chunghwa Picture Tubes, Ltd. and Hitachi Displays, Ltd., all state that the combination and conspiracy to fix the prices of TFT-LCDs was carried out, in part, in the Northern District of California.

IX. THE PASS-THROUGH OF OVERCHARGES TO CONSUMERS

225. Defendants' conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain and stabilize the price of CRT Products at artificial levels resulted in harm to Plaintiffs and the indirect purchaser consumer classes alleged herein because it resulted in their paying higher prices for CRT Products than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' conspiracy. The entire overcharge at issue was passed on to Plaintiffs and members of the indirect purchaser classes. As the DOJ acknowledged in announcing the indictment of defendant Chunghwa's former Chairman and CEO, "This conspiracy harmed countless Americans who purchased computers and televisions using cathode ray tubes sold at fixed prices."

226. The Defendants identified above that attended the Glass Meetings, monitored the prices of televisions and computer monitors sold in the U.S. and elsewhere on a regular basis. The purpose and effect of investigating such retail market data was at least three fold. First, it permitted Defendants, such as Chunghwa, which did not manufacture CRT televisions or computer monitors the way that Samsung, LG, Daewoo, Panasonic, Toshiba, Philips, Hitachi, Thomson and Mitsubishi did, to police the price fixing agreement to make sure that intra-defendant CRT sales were kept at supra-competitive levels. Secondly, it permitted all

1 Defendants to police their price fixing agreement to independent OEMs who would reduce 2 prices for finished goods if there was a corresponding reduction in CRT prices from a
3 Defendant. Finally, as discussed above, Defendants used the prices of finished products to 4 analyze whether they could increase prices or should agree to a “bottom” price instead. The 5 Defendants concluded that in order to make their CRT price increases stick, they needed to 6 make the increase high enough that their direct customers (CRT TV and monitor makers) would 7 be able to justify a corresponding price increase to their customers (for e.g., retailers and 8 computer OEMs). In this way, Defendants assured that 100% of the supracompetitive 9 overcharges for CRT Products were passed on to indirect purchaser consumers.

10 227. The indirect purchaser consumer buys CRT Products from either a computer or 11 TV OEM such as Dell or Sharp, or a reseller such as Best Buy.

12 228. Because of the breadth of the price-fixing conspiracy here, the direct purchaser
13 CRT TV and monitor manufacturers were not constrained by their competitors from passing on 14 the overcharge. Because each of the direct purchaser’s competitors were also buying CRTs at 15 supracompetitive prices from conspiracy members, no direct purchaser faced end-product price
16 competition from a competitor that was not paying supracompetitive prices for CRTs.

17 229. The price of CRT Products is directly correlated to the price of CRTs. The 18 margins for CRT TV and monitor makers are sufficiently thin that price increases of CRTs force
19 them to increase the prices of their CRT Products. This means that increases in the price of 20 CRTs lead to quick corresponding price increases at the OEM level for CRT Products.

21 230. Computer and TV OEMs and retailers of CRT Products are all subject to 22 vigorous price competition, whether selling CRT TVs or computer monitors. The demand for 23 CRTs is ultimately determined by purchasers of products containing such products. The market
24 for CRTs and the market for CRT Products are therefore inextricably linked and cannot be 25 considered separately. Defendants are well aware of this intimate relationship, and use forecasts
26 of CRT TVs and computer monitors to predict sales of and determine production levels and 27 pricing for CRTs.

1 231. Computers and televisions are commodities with little or no brand loyalty such 2 that aggressive pricing causes consumers to switch preferences to different brands. Prices are 3 closely based on production costs, which are in turn directly determined by component costs, as 4 assembly costs are minimal. OEMs accordingly use component costs, like the cost of CRTs, as 5 the starting point for all price calculations. On information and belief, computer and TV OEMs
6 price their end-products on a “cost-plus” basis. Thus, computer and television prices closely 7 track increases and decreases in component costs.

8 232. The CRT is the most expensive component in the products into which they are 9 incorporated. On information and belief, the cost of the CRT in a computer monitor is 10 approximately 60% of the total cost to manufacture the computer monitor. On information and 11 belief, the cost of the CRT in a television is a slightly smaller percentage of the total 12 manufacturing cost because a television has more components than a computer monitor, such as 13 the tuner and speakers.

14 233. Economic and legal literature recognizes that the more pricing decisions are 15 based on cost, the easier it is to determine the pass-through rate. The directness of affected costs
16 refers to whether an overcharge affects a direct (i.e., variable) cost or an indirect (i.e., overhead)
17 cost. Overcharges will be passed through sooner and at a higher rate if the overcharges affect 18 direct costs. Here, CRTs are a direct and substantial cost of CRT Products. Therefore, Plaintiffs 19 will be able to show that the overcharge on the CRTs was passed through to indirect purchasers.

20 234. Once a CRT leaves its place of manufacture, it remains essentially unchanged as 21 it moves through the distribution system. CRTs are identifiable, discreet, physical objects that 22 do not change form or become an indistinguishable part of the TV or computer monitor in which 23 they are contained. Thus, CRTs follow a traceable physical chain from the Defendants to the 24 OEMs to the purchasers of finished products incorporating CRTs.

25 235. Moreover, just as CRTs can be physically traced through the supply chain, so can 26 their price by traced to show that changes in the prices paid by direct purchasers of CRTs affect 27 prices paid by indirect purchasers of CRT Products. On information and belief, computer and 28 TV OEMs price their end-products on a “cost-plus” basis.

236. In retailing, it is common to use a “mark-up rule.” The retail price is set as the wholesale cost plus a percentage markup designed to recover non-product costs and to provide a profit. This system guarantees that increases in costs to the retailer will be passed on to end buyers. For example, CDW, a large seller of CRT monitors, uses such a system. A declaration in the DRAM case from CDW’s director of pricing details exactly how they calculated selling prices:

In general, CDW employs a “building block” approach to setting its advertised prices. The first building block is the Cost of Goods Sold (COGS), which represents the price CDW paid to acquire the product...CDW...adds a series of positive markups to the cost to CDW to acquire a given product. These markups are in addition to the pass through effect of changes in the costs charged to CDW for that product by a given vendor.

237. Economic and legal literature has recognized that unlawful overcharges in a component normally result in higher prices for products containing that price-fixed component. As Professor Herbert Hovenkamp, a noted antitrust scholar, has stated in his treatise, FEDERAL ANTITRUST POLICY, THE LAW OF COMPETITION AND ITS PRACTICE (1994) at 624:

A monopoly charge at the top of the distribution chain generally results in higher prices at every level below. For example, if production of aluminum is monopolized or cartelized, fabricators of aluminum cookware will pay higher prices for aluminum. In most cases they will absorb part of these increased costs themselves and will pass part along to cookware wholesalers. The wholesalers will charge higher prices to the retail stores, and the stores will do it once again to retail consumers. Every person at every stage in the chain will be poorer as a result of the monopoly price at the top.

Theoretically, one can calculate the percentage of any overcharge that a firm at one distributional level will pass on to those at the next level.

238. Similarly, two other antitrust scholars—Professors Robert G. Harris (Professor Emeritus and former Chair of the Business and Public Policy Group at the Hass School of Business at the University of California at Berkeley) and the late Lawrence A. Sullivan (Professor of Law Emeritus at Southwestern School of Law and author of the Handbook of the

1 Law of Antitrust)—have observed that “in a multiple-level chain of distribution, passing on
2 monopoly overcharges is not the exception; it is the rule.”

3 239. As Professor Jeffrey McKie-Mason (Arthur W. Burks Professor for Information
4 and Computer Science, Professor of Economics and Public Policy, and Associate Dean for 5 Academic Affairs in the School of Information at the University of Michigan), an expert who 6 presented evidence in a number of the indirect purchaser cases involving Microsoft Corporation,
7 said (in a passage quoted in a judicial decision in that case granting class certification):

8 As is well known in economic theory and practice, at least some of the 9 overcharge will be passed on by distributors to end consumers. When the 10 distribution markets are highly competitive, as they are here, all or nearly 11 the entire overcharge will be passed on through to ultimate consumers....
12 Both of Microsoft’s experts also agree upon the economic phenomenon of 13 cost pass through and how it works in competitive markets. This general 14 phenomenon of cost pass through is well established in antitrust laws and 15 economics as well.

16 240. The purpose of Defendants’ conspiratorial conduct was to fix, raise, maintain and 17 stabilize the price of CRTs and, as a direct and foreseeable result, CRT Products. The market 18 for CRTs and the market for CRT Products are inextricably linked. One exists to serve the 19 other. Defendants not only knew, but expressly contemplated that prices of CRT Products
20 would increase as a direct result of their increasing the prices of CRTs.

21 241. Finally, many of the Defendants and/or co-conspirators themselves have been 22 and are currently manufacturers of CRT TVs and computer monitors. Such manufacturers
23 include, for example, Samsung, LG, Hitachi, Toshiba, Philips, and Panasonic. Having agreed to 24 fix prices for CRTs, the major component of the end products they were manufacturing, these 25 Defendants intended to pass on the full cost of this component in their finished products, and in 26 fact did so.

27 242. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants’ illegal conduct, Plaintiffs and 28 other indirect purchasers have been forced to pay supra-competitive prices for CRT Products.
These inflated prices have been passed on to them by direct purchaser manufacturers, distributors and retailers.

X. CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

243. Plaintiffs bring this action individually and as a class action pursuant to the provisions of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on behalf of all members of the following class (the “Nationwide Class”):

All persons and or entities who or which indirectly purchased in the United States for their own use and not for resale, CRT Products manufactured and/or sold by the Defendants, or any subsidiary, affiliate, or co-conspirator thereof, at any time during the period from at least March 1, 1995 through at least November 25, 2007. Specifically excluded from this Class are the Defendants; the officers, directors or employees of any Defendant; any entity in which any Defendant has a controlling interest; and, any affiliate, legal representative, heir or assign of any Defendant. Also excluded are named co-conspirators, any federal, state or local government entities, any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, and any juror assigned to this action.

244. Plaintiffs also bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action pursuant to the provisions of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and/or respective state statute(s), on behalf of all members of the following State classes or subclasses (collectively “Indirect Purchaser State Classes”): Arizona, California, District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.

245. Each of the Indirect Purchaser State Classes is defined as follows:

All persons and or entities in Arizona, California, District of Columbia, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, West Virginia, and Wisconsin who or which indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale, CRT Products manufactured and/or sold by the Defendants, or any subsidiary, affiliate, or co-conspirator thereof, at any time during the period from at least March 1, 1995 through at least November 25, 2007.

All persons and entities in Hawaii who or which indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale CRT Products manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest or co-conspirators thereof, at any time from June 25, 2002 through at least November 25, 2007.

All persons and entities in Nebraska who or which indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale CRT Products manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest or co-conspirators thereof, at any time from July 20, 2002 through at least November 25, 2007.

All persons and entities in Nevada who or which indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale CRT Products manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest or co-conspirator thereof at any time from February 4, 1999 through at least November 25, 2007.

Specifically excluded from these Classes are the Defendants; the officers, directors or employees of any Defendant; any entity in which any Defendant has a controlling interest; and, any affiliate, legal representative, heir or assign of any Defendant. Also excluded are named co-conspirators, any federal, state or local government entities, any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, and any juror assigned to this action.

246. This action has been brought and may properly be maintained as a class action pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for the following reasons:

a. The Classes are ascertainable and there is a well-defined community of interest among members of the Classes;

b. Based upon the nature of trade and commerce involved and the number of indirect purchasers of CRT Products, Plaintiffs believe that the number of Class members is very large, and therefore joinder of all Class members is not practicable;

c. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of Class members' claims because Plaintiffs indirectly purchased CRT Products manufactured by Defendants or their co-conspirators, and therefore Plaintiffs' claims arise from the same common course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the members of the Classes and the relief sought is common to the Classes;

d. The following common questions of law or fact, among others, exist as to the members of the Classes:

i. Whether Defendants formed and operated a combination or conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain, or stabilize the prices of CRT Products;

ii. Whether the combination or conspiracy caused CRT Product prices to be higher than they would have been in the absence of Defendants' conduct;

1 iii. The operative time period of Defendants' combination or 2 conspiracy;

3 iv. Whether Defendants' conduct caused injury to the business or 4 property of Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes;

5 v. The appropriate measure of the amount of damages suffered by 6 the Classes;

7 vi. Whether Defendants' conduct violates Section 1 of the Sherman
8 Act (15 U.S.C. § 1) as alleged in the First Claim for Relief;

9 vii. Whether Defendants' conduct violates the Indirect Purchaser
10 States' antitrust laws as alleged in the Second Claim for Relief;

11 viii. Whether Defendants' conduct violates the unfair competition and 12 consumer protection laws of the Consumer Protection States as alleged in the Third Claim for 13 Relief;

14 ix. The appropriate nature of class-wide equitable relief.

15 e. These and other questions of law and fact common to the members of the 16 Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, including legal and 17 factual issues relating to liability and damages;

18 f. After determination of the predominant common issues identified above,
19 if necessary or appropriate, the Classes can be divided into logical and manageable subclasses;

20 g. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Classes in 21 that Plaintiffs have no interests that are antagonistic to other members of the Classes and have 22 retained counsel competent and experienced in the prosecution of class actions and antitrust
23 litigation to represent them and the Classes;

24 h. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and 25 efficient adjudication of this litigation since individual joinder of all damaged Class members is 26 impractical. The damages suffered by the individual Class members are relatively small, given 27 the expense and burden of individual prosecution of the claims asserted in this litigation. Thus,
28 absent the availability of class action procedures it would not be feasible for Class members to

1 redress the wrongs done to them. Even if the Class members could afford individual litigation,
 2 the court system could not. Further, individual litigation presents the potential for inconsistent
 3 or contradictory judgments and would greatly magnify the delay and expense to all parties and 4 the court system. Therefore, the class action device presents far fewer case management 5 difficulties and will provide the benefits of unitary adjudication, economy of scale and 6 comprehensive supervision in a single court;

7 i. Defendants have acted, and/or refused to act, on grounds generally
 8 applicable to the Classes, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief with respect to the 9 Classes as a whole; and

10 j. In the absence of a class action, Defendants would be unjustly enriched 11 because they would be able to retain the benefits and fruits of its wrongful conduct.

12 XI. VIOLATIONS ALLEGED

13 A. First Claim for Relief: Violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act

14 247. Plaintiffs incorporate and reallege, as though fully set forth herein, each and 16 248. Beginning at a time unknown to Plaintiffs, but at least as early as March 1, 1995,

 17 through at least November 25, 2007, the exact dates being unknown to Plaintiffs and exclusively 18 within the knowledge of Defendants, Defendants and their co-conspirators, entered into a 19 continuing agreement, understanding, and conspiracy to unreasonably restrain trade and 20 commerce in the United States, in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. §1.

21 249. In particular, Defendants have combined and conspired to fix, raise, maintain or 22 stabilize the prices of CRT Products sold in the United States.

23 250. Defendants, by their unlawful conspiracy, artificially raised, inflated and 24 maintained the market prices of CRT Products as herein alleged.

25 251. The contract, combination or conspiracy consisted of a continuing agreement,
 26 understanding and concert of action among Defendants and their co-conspirators, the substantial 27 terms of which were to fix, raise, maintain and stabilize the prices of CRT Products they sold in 28 the United States and elsewhere.

1 252. In formulating and carrying out the alleged agreement, understanding, and

- 11 agreements reached;
- 12 d. Sold CRT Products to customers in the United States at non-competitive
- 13 prices; and
- 14 e. Invoiced customers in the United States at the agreed-upon, fixed prices
- 15 for CRT Products and transmitting such invoices via U.S. mail and other
- 16 interstate means of delivery.

17 253. The combination and conspiracy alleged herein has had the following effects, 18 among others:

- 19 a. Price competition in the sale of CRT Products has been restrained,
- 20 suppressed and/or eliminated in the United States;
- 21 b. Prices for CRT Products sold by Defendants and their co-conspirators
- 22 have been fixed, raised, maintained and stabilized at artificially high, non-
- 23 competitive levels throughout the United States; and
- 24 c. Those who purchased CRT Products directly or indirectly from
- 25 Defendants have been deprived the benefits of free and open competition.

26 254. As a direct result of the unlawful conduct of Defendants and their co-conspirators
 27 in furtherance of their continuing contract, combination or conspiracy, Plaintiffs and the 28 members of the Nationwide Class have been injured and will continue to be injured in their

1 business and property by paying more for CRT Products purchased indirectly from the 2 Defendants and their co-conspirators than they would have paid and will pay in the absence of 3 the combination and conspiracy.

4 255. These violations are continuing and will continue unless enjoined by this Court.

5 256. Pursuant to Section 16 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 26, Plaintiffs and the 6 Nationwide Class seek the issuance of an injunction against Defendants, preventing and 7 restraining the violations alleged herein.

 15 by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining, at artificial and/or 16 non-competitive levels, the prices at which CRT Products were sold, 17 distributed or obtained in Arizona.
- 18 b. Defendants’ combinations or conspiracies had the following effects: (1) 19 CRT Product price competition was restrained, suppressed, and 20 eliminated throughout Arizona; (2) CRT Product prices were raised,
 21 fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout 22 Arizona; (3) the Arizona Plaintiff and members of the Arizona Indirect
 23 Purchaser Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for CRT 24 Products.

14 and engaged in a continuing unlawful trust in restraint of the trade and 15 commerce described above in violation of Section 16720, California
16 Business and Professional Code. Defendants, and each of them, have 17 acted in violation of Section 16720 to fix, raise, stabilize and maintain 18 prices of CRT Products at supra-competitive levels.
- 19 b. The aforesaid violations of Section 16720, California Business and 20 Professions Code, consisted, without limitation, of a continuing unlawful 21 trust and concert of action among the Defendants and their co-
22 conspirators, the substantial terms of which were to fix, raise, maintain 23 and stabilize the prices of, and to allocate markets for CRT Products.
- 24 c. For the purpose of forming and effectuating the unlawful trust, the 25 defendants and their co-conspirators have done those things which they
